

Mariya Vynarchyk

The intercultural direction of bilingual education. The article deals with the ways and mechanisms of the development intercultural competences pupils under bilingual circumstances. The intercultural direction of bilingual education and factors which it's actualizing has been revealed. Our attention is paid to the linguistic particularities of the bilingual socialization.

Key words: intercultural competences, bilingual education, linguistic particularities, bilingual socialization.

Valentina Deresh

The categorical-conceptual apparatus of problem socialization the child. In article on the basis of the analysis of scientific sources is reviewed the explanation of categorical-conceptual apparatus of problem socialization the child. In particular, the essence of concepts socialization, education, family education, family socialization from a position of pedagogy, psychology, sociology, social pedagogy is revealed. Also the thing is between the definitions. Implemented by consideration of the dynamics of the functions and tasks of parents in family education.

Key words: socialization, education, family education, family socialization.

Khrystyna Dzyubynska

Tutorial-educative activity of Kalinskyi charitable society. The article deals with the institutional forms of tutorial-educative activity of Kalinskyi charitable society which functioned on the ground of Poland along 1825 – 1851, 1880 – 1914. Society created all necessary conditions for living, nourishment and medical treatment for orphan-children, half-orphans and children from needy families, contributed to placing in a job. Attention is concentrated on the room for children, working house, diurnal shelter of St. Antony and primary school.

Key words: Kalynskyi charitable society, guardianship, upbringing, orphan-children, Institutional forms of guardianship.

Nadija Dudnyk

The using of pedagogical rework by V. Suchomlynskiy in the development of speech creation by children. This article reveals the problem of developing the children's creativity. Author determined the tale as a means of moral education of older preschoolers. Its deal with the pedagogical heritage of Suchomlynskiy in the development of creative speech of preschool children. The author has analyzed the children's works by V. Suchomlynskiy as a methodological material for the work organization for educators.

Key words: moral education, speech creation, pedagogical heritage, fairy tale.

Oleksandra Dudnyk

The formation of responsible behavior younger pupils on the basis of the stories by V. Sukhomlynskiy. The article deals the content of V. Suchomlynskiy works in reader for children in the process of education the responsibility. Author determined the relationship between the development of consciousness and the development of responsible behavior in primary school children. Based on the analysis of children's works by V. Suchomlynskiy presented methodical recommendations for pedagogues.

Key words: responsibility, responsible behavior, self-awareness, moral action, social responsibility.

Oksana Ilchenko

The implementation of preparing technology students for polyart education of preschool children with special needs. The article discusses the principles of professional teacher training to polyart education of preschool children with disabilities. We've designated directions and phases of introduction of the artistic and aesthetic education of students. Highlights the integrate issues of knowledge of various branches of science (theoretical, practical, methodical, special), and organizational forms and methods of training the specialists in the childhood education, which are the main components of the technology to attract the students to polyart activities.

Key words: educational technology, polyart culture, stages of technology, training of teachers of preschool children.

Lyubov Kalashnyk

Sale of children as a source of raising the orphanage level in China. The problem of child trafficking in the PRC as a source for increasing the number of orphans both biological (due to the absence of parents) and social (as a result of the salvaging children for labor and execution of fake paternity) is under consideration. The article also contains information about the PRC Government social programs on the Prevention of children sale.

Key words: children, orphans, children sale, China, social orphanage, caring for orphans.

Oresta Karpenko

Regulatory and legal ensuring of tutorial and upbringing activity of intervention establishments in Poland. The article deals with the becoming sources of intervention establishments for children and youth in Poland, basic principles of organization of educational-upbringing process, generalization of legal grounds of reformation in watching system over the children confined paternal caring, and also duties and functions of pedagogical workers of these establishments are reflected in the article.

Key words: intervention establishment, children, youth, Poland, normative-legal acts, guardianship, pedagogical personnel.

Olha Kobriy

Paradigm'ni directions of reformation of maintenance of modern pedagogical preparation of specialists. In the article substantial reforms open up in maintenance of pedagogical preparation of specialists, its strategic principles and methodological orientations which are designed on future activity of students and need ground of modern pedagogical paradigm as aggregate of the theoretical and methodological going near organization of the pedagogical phenomena and processes. Taken into account tendencies, related to passing to the personality oriented model of studies and determination base informatively semantic space.

Key words: the table of contents of pedagogical preparation of specialists, modern pedagogical paradigm, personality oriented model of studies, is base informatively semantic space.

Sergij Kulikovskij

Genesis of the concept competence in European and Ukrainian educational thought. The article reveals aspects of the formation of the term competence in the European and national educational science. The attention is focused on the content of key competencies, conducted the analysis interpretation of the term competence in different countries.

Key words: competence, competency, education, pedagogical science, Europe, Ukraine.

Olena Nevmerzhytska

Development axiological ideas in the domestic educational theory of the late 19th – early 20th century. The article analyzes the works of local teachers of the late 19th – early 20th century with the aim of isolating portrayed them educational values. Proved that despite the commitment of scientists to different directions and trends of educational science, their views are identical to the values observed that, in my opinion, due to the gradual affirmation in social life in general and in particular, the pedagogy of liberal ideology.

Key words: values, educational values, education, educational theory, axiological foundations of education.

Oleksandr Okolovych

Professional teacher's culture in the light of theories of Vasul Sukhomlynskyi. The article defines special features of coming into being, keeping of specific functions out of complex research positions of teacher's culture. Attention is paid to the group of factors which influence formation of professional culture of the teacher in opinion of V. Sukhomlynskyi. There is proved necessity of creative use of theoretical ideas and pedagogical valuable experience of the pedagogue which influence forms of work in teacher's professional occupation.

Key words: Vasul Sukhomlynskyi, professional communication, communication qualities, teacher's culture, pedagogical principles, competence.

Natalia Oleksiuk

Features of the social formation of the child at different ages of it's development. Based on a detailed analysis of identity formation revealed features of its social formation. The features of the social formation in childhood and reveals the impact of this process may meet social and cultural needs of the child depending on their age and gender. The role of the family and the educational institution in the social shaping of the child and the main ways to improve these determinants for child socio-cultural environments.

Key words: child, family, school, need, social formation, personality, process.

Halyna Pavlyshyn

English grammatical competence in the context of medical students' professional culture formation. The main components of English grammatical competence of medical students are described in the article; science-based classification system of exercises for the formation of grammatical competence is considered; and the necessity of grammatical mastering for proper opinion formation is stressed.

Key words: English grammar, communicative activities, grammatical competence, system of exercise.

Mykhailo Palasiuk

Developing foreign language communicative competence in students of higher technical educational institutions. The article views foreign language communicative competence as an integral formation in a personality, having complex structure and acting as interference and interpenetration of linguistic, sociocultural, and communicative competence. The author highlights that forming foreign language communicative competence in specialists-to-be at present stage of the world community development should be dealt with as an important and integral part of general specialist training.

Key words: foreign language communicative competence, competence, higher technical educational institution.

Volodymyr Petrykiv

Social and political background of forming the contents of higher historical education in Ukraine in early postwar years. The article analyzes the social and political environment in which developing of higher education of history after the Second World War. The author discusses the process of strengthening the ideological learning process and associated changes in the history education in Ukraine in the early postwar years.

Key words: history, historic higher education, programs.

Nataliya Protsyshyn

Training of the teaching staff of higher qualification for Pedagogical Institutes of Ukraine out of graduate school in 50th – 70th. The system of scientific and pedagogical staff training out of graduate school for pedagogical institutes of Ukraine in 1951 – 1970 is analyzed in the article. Quantitative and qualitative analysis of archival material shows that during 1951 – 1970 there was a significant reducing of the need for higher qualification teachers in pedagogical institutes just by training the pedagogical teaching staff out of graduate school.

Key words: research and teaching staff, pedagogical institutes, applicant for science degree.

Nina Slyusarenko, Larysa Lipshyts

Formation of sociocultural personality of the future navigator through the competence – based approach. The article presents the possibilities of formation of sociocultural personality of the future navigator of the international voyages through the competence – based approach. It is determined that sociocultural competence is an aggregate of the corresponding competences, complicated and complex characteristic which shows the integration of professional and theoretical knowledge, valuable orientations, personal qualities and practical skills of the future navigator of the international voyages.

Key words: formation, competence, competence – based approach, sociocultural competence, the future navigators of the international voyages.

Olesia Smolinska

Pedagogical narratives of V.A. Sukhomlynskyi. The article highlights the problems of researchers using the narrative approach to pedagogical writings of V.A. Sukhomlinsky particularly analyzed narratives of personal experience, the possibility of psychopedagogical prediction based on narratives. The attempt of the narrative analysis of the fundamental works of V.A. Sukhomlinsky – To children I give my heart.

Key words: V.A. Sukhomlynskyi, narrative approach, To children I give my heart, cultural and educational space.

Lesia Terletska

Choice of active learning methods in the organizing of educational-cognitive activity of teenagers. The article deals with the role of active learning methods to ensure the quality of educational and cognitive activities of teenagers. It is specified on the need to improve teaching methods and their focus on the development of cognitive activity, independence and creativity of teenagers. It is determined that the effective use of active methods in school depends on the teacher's ability to choose those ones that have been effective in the specific context of each lesson relying primarily as the laws of psychology, and the features of the child's mind.

Key words: active learning methods, cognitive activity, independence, creativity, teenager.

Vladislav Tkachenko

Conceptual model of education of future sociologists on the basis of personality-oriented approach. The article deals with the analysis of the scientific literature containing information about modeling professional future professionals. It is noted, that sociological education reform and new teaching technology in learner centered teaching practices should be seen as an essential condition of intellectual, creative and ethical development of student-sociologist. without the sample standard. It is posted structure the authors' model of personality oriented training future sociologist, containing the following components: purposal component, semantic component an motivational component.

Key words: personally oriented approach, conceptual model of professional training, future sociologists.

Maria Chepil

Ethnic patriotism in pedagogical heritage of K. Ushynskyyi. The article shows the opinion of K. Ushynskyyi to the theoretical basement in upbringing of growing up generation in spirit of patriotism, love to the native land and its people. In the basis of ethnic patriotism lies idea of nationality. The attention is paid to the role of mother tongue, history, geography, natural history, folklore in the patriotic education of children.

Key words: Kostiantyn Ushynskyy, patriotism, patriotic education, love to the country, native land, idea of nationality.

Svitlana Sharapa

Axiological aspects of teacher training at higher educational establishments of Ukraine (the end of XX – the beginning of XXI century). The article gives ground on the formation of value priorities, forms and methods of teacher training at higher educational establishments of Ukraine at the end of XX – beginning of XXI century. The formation of generally pedagogical training contents on the basis of acmeological approach should facilitate the future teacher's orientation and self-determination in the field of pedagogical activity, continuing pedagogical self-education.

Key words: value priorities, axiology, teacher, higher educational establishments of Ukraine.

Milena Yaroslavtseva

Structural components of professional self-realization of future specialist on preschool education. The article deals with the formation of professional self-realization students. The analysis of studies on the components of professional self-realization. The article throws lights on structural components of professional self-realization of future educators of children of preschool age during the period of pedagogical practice: motivational-valued component, cognitive component, reflective and regulation component, creative component. It is based content aspect and functional setting of each components.

Key words: professional self-realization, structural components, students, pedagogical practice, motivational-valued component, cognitive component, creative component.