Nadya Ashitok

Profession of social pedagogue and social worker: common and different

In the article the question of the interconnection of “social pedagogue” and “social worker” definitions is considered. The theoretic analysis of their interconnection is fulfilled. The question of the necessity of further division of the two social activity spheres – social-pedagogical and social work is actualized.

Key words: social pedagogic, social work, profession, social pedagogue, social worker.

Valentyna Berezan

Practical preparation of the social pedagogues with using information and communication technologies

In article the structure and the content of practical preparation of the future social pedagogues in Poltava V.G. Korolenko National Pedagogical University at the educational levels “bachelor”, “specialist”, “master”, is analyzed, prospects of wide use of information and communication technologies at all stages of the organization of different types of practice are proved.

Key words: social pedagogues, professional training, student practical training, information and communication technologies.

Ivan Bilavich

Contribution of Ukrainian doctors to development of native science and medical guardianship of children and adults (late 19th – early 20th century)

The activity of the Ukrainian doctors (E. Ozarkevich, I. Gorbachevskiy, J. Okunevskiy, S. Okunevska, S. Parfanovych) were analysed in the article concerning forming of knowledge from bases of hygiene and sanitation, prevention resing and distribution different diseases, particulary tuberculosis, training children and adults of Galychyna for healthy way of life, that became the real payment in the maintainance of geneфонd of the Ukrainian people and development of native medical science.

Key words: Ukrainian doctors, Galychyna, “Народна lичнycia”, elucidative.

Volodymyr Bilichenko

Development of musical education in Ukraine during the hetmanship

This article raised and described one of the most important and urgent questions of the existence of the Cossack period in the Ukrainian state system – the question of the significant development of creational spirit and potential of the Ukrainian nation. Ukrainian baroques as one of the national styles which reached its highest point during the hetmanship is also characterized in the article. The role, importance and support which the Ukrainian hetmen and statesmen paid to the development of the musical art is stressed in the article as well. There are some best examples of the Ukrainian folk creative work, vocal and choral music.

Key words: Cossack period, musical education, the Ukrainian people’s musical creativity, vocal and choral music.

Maryna Boichenko

Organization of telementoring programs for gifted and talented in the developed English-speaking countries

The article reflects the essence of telementoring as an innovative form of interaction between a mentor and a student aimed at providing him with individual academic, motivational and emotional support by means of information and communication technologies. The telementoring programs for gifted and talented, which are introduced in the developed English-speaking countries are characterized.

Key words: mentor, mentoring, telementoring, gifted and talented, support, ICT.
Volodymyr Bondarenko

Formation of technology future teachers’ professional image

The article summarizes the main components of the course “Modern Technology Teacher’s Image”, intended for students of pedagogical universities of specialty “Technological Education”. The article discloses the purpose of the specialized course, its main ideas, tasks, requirements for the students’ level at the end of the course, and summarizes its program and main topics of lectures, workshops and seminars.

Key words: professional image, future teacher of technology, professional image of teacher technology, specialized course, Pedagogical University.

Natalya Veluchko

Ecologic and aesthetic education of British primary schools

The article deals with the content, goals, objectives, organizational forms, methods and principles of ecologic and aesthetic education in primary schools of Great Britain. Theoretically pedagogical conditions of ecological consciousness by aesthetic means are substantiated. Scientific and theoretical substantiation of the modern paradigm of ecological and aesthetic education in Great Britain is made. On the base of systematic analysis the general trends in the definition of the theoretical and methodological principles of ecological and aesthetic education in Great Britain are detected. The experience of ecological and aesthetic component in the content of British primary school is expressed.

Key words: ecologic and aesthetic education, aesthetic education, ecological and aesthetic perception, elementary schoolchildren, Great Britain.
Oksana Vilkova

Development of child's folk choreography in Soviet Ukraine in the structure of activity of regional houses of folk creation
(second half of the XX century)

In the article the features of development of child’s folk choreography are exposed in Soviet Ukraine in the context of activity of regional houses of folk creation.

Key words: dancing group, Soviet Ukraine, choreographic education, children of midchildhood, folk choreography.

Marina Volikova

The problem of periodization and the development of scientific and journalistic heritage of A.S. Makarenko in the context of innovative development of education

On the basis of baseline principles of periodization of historical and pedagogical science presented scientific approaches to the problem of periodization of scientific and pedagogical heritage of A.S. Makarenko, the need for objective evaluation of the work of scholar-teacher in the context of the current trends of national historical and pedagogy.

Key words: pedagogical heritage of A.S. Makarenko periodization, makarenkoeexperts, education, chronological limits.

Olena Gavrysh

Professional and personal properties of school social educator

In the article the requirements for professional and personal properties of school social educators are carried out. The author marks out the level of knowledge, skills and abilities which the social specialists should have for realization of qualitative and efficient social work at school. First of all in this research she points out among professional skills analytical, prognostic, projective, reflexive and communicative abilities. The author emphasizes also the professional basic features of school social educators. Besides that she summarizes and systematizes personal properties which play an important role in social educator’s profession. The author pays also a great attention to ethical principles of social specialists’ work.

Key words: school social educator, professional properties, personal properties, ethical principles.

Violetta Gorodys’ka

Innovations in the educational activity of higher school

The article analyses modern innovation educational technologies in professional activity of a pedagogue (distant education, mixed education, intellect-maps, cloudy technologies) and illuminates on theoretical level their application in conditions of higher school.

Key words: innovations in educational activity, information and communication technologies, educational technologies, professional activity of a pedagogue.

Oksana Danysko

Methodological-theoretical principles of schoolchildren healthy way of life formation by physical culture and sport methods

In the article the modern scientific approaches to the problem of schoolchildren healthy way of life formation are generalized. It emphasised that the leading methods of schoolchildren healthy way of life formation is physical education and sport. The methodological-theoretical approaches to schoolchildren healthy way of life formation by physical culture and sport methods are specified: personal-social approach; student-centred approach; activity approach.

Key words: formation of healthy way of life, conceptions of physical education, physical culture, sport.
Iryna Datskiv

The training of specialists in the field of musical art in Transcarpathia (1919 – 1939)

On the basis of the analysis of historical sources and archival documents it has been disclosed cultural and historical background of the formation and development of music education in Transcarpathia (1919 – 1939). It was influenced by regional traditions of music-making, personal impact of outstanding people in the field of art and culture. It was established that the effectiveness of the music art development was defined by the level of professional training of musicians. The value of professional training of musicians was underlined and this fact influenced on the implementing musicians’ practice combining related branches of science and training.

Key words: professional education, training, professional music education, music art.

Olena Demchenko

Explication of the phenomenon of social gifts in the context of psychological and educational research

The paper studies the issue of social gifts as a psychological and pedagogical phenomenon, summarizes scientific approaches to the determination of its structure and main components.

Key words: social gifts, social motivation, social intelligence, emotional intelligence, social skills.

Alona Dulia

Future marine industry specialist preparation according to the competency approach

The article attempts to analyze competency approach. Essence of the competency approach is the one of the main directions of modernization of higher education, providing training of qualified personnel, which would be competitive in the national and international labor market. It is indicated that competitive approach in higher education needs to study a new theoretical basis, updating higher education, creating a model of competitive graduate and professional future by the competent maritime industry.

Key words: competetive approach, competence, professional competence, education level, academic, training and practical training.

Volodymyr Kobriy

Pedagogical conditions of practical training in higher pedagogical educational institutions of Ukraine

The article reveals significant reforms in the content of practical training, its strategic principles that are designed for students and their future activities and require the justification of a personality oriented educational model. The author discloses appropriate pedagogical conditions of democratization of practical training of future specialists concerning the introduction of modern information technologies in higher pedagogical educational institutions of Ukraine, as well as individualization and differentiation of education, assigning each student the status of a subject of independent learning activities and so on.

Key words: practical training, personality oriented educational model, pedagogical conditions, information technologies, individualization and differentiation of education, the subject, organization of independent educational activities, higher pedagogical educational institutions of Ukraine.

Julia Korotkova

Purpose and content of professional training of philologists in the field of native language in the University of Cyprus in the late 20th and early 21st century

The article described the structure of the Faculty of Philosophy of the University of Cyprus, purpose and content of professional training of philologists were analyzed in the field of native language in the Department of Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies and the Department of Classical studies and Philosophy in the late 20th and early 21st century.

Key words: the Department of Philosophy, native language and literature, purpose and content of professional training, curriculum, student-philologist.
Yelena Kravchenko-Dzondza

The model of communicative competence of primary school teachers in the training

The article describes features of pedagogical models. The model of communicative competence of primary school teachers in the training, which covers the purpose, pedagogical conditions, the main approaches to the formation of the communicative competence of students of higher educational institutions, as well as components of the process.

Key words: model, communicative competence, training, primary school teachers.

Tatyana Loza

Trends in readiness for independent living children in family-type homes in the exercise of their social and educational support

The article traced the dynamics of orphans’ readiness for independent living in the implementation of targeted social support by parents and social workers. The main criteria for experimental work made commitment to family life, social competence and professional readiness of orphans. Forms and methods of such support was introduced with regard to orphans’ personal characteristics and the characteristics of their previous social experience.

Key words: orphan, social and educational support, family-type home, readiness for independent living.

Iryna Malashevska

Theory and practice of modern system of the musical education of children younger age

The theoretical and practical aspects of modern system of musical studies of primary school are elucidated in the article. The review of regulatory documents of (State Standard of primary school, academicals plans and programs) is conducted in it. The analysis of last scientific researches in the branch of method of musical studies and upbringing of children younger age is realized. The level of corresponding to theory and practice in the system of musical education of younger schoolchildren on modern stage is determined.

Key words: children of younger age, studies of music, academicals plans and programs, corresponding of the theory and practice, modern system of musical education, musictherapy.

Maria Navrotska

Communication as an integral component of the image of the teacher

The article examines the nature and importance of communication in the image of the teacher. The essence of the concepts of “communication”, “pedagogical communication”, “professional and pedagogical communication”. The paper highlighted the functions of communication, pedagogical communication style analyzed, covered the stage of communication. Pay particular attention to the fact that communication is an integral part of the teacher’s image, and thus directly affect the creation of its positive image.

Key words: image, teacher, communication, language.

Olena Nevmerzhytska

Educational ideal: the evolution and modern interpretation

In the article the essence of the concept of the educational ideal is discovered and factors that make influence on its forming are pointed out. The evolution of its formation from the ancient time till today is considered. Main attention on its universal and national components is given and the necessity of considering every nation's mental features in its formation is proved. The axiological character of the choice of the educational ideal is pointed because the concept of human that is admired in the process of the educational practice is referred to certain system of values.

Key words: ideal upbringing, educational ideal, values.
Ellina Panasenko

Genesis of experiments in the sphere of upbringing in the scientific and pedagogical researches of Ukrainian authors: retrospective analysis

The article deals with the features of the experiment’s genesis in the sphere of upbringing in the scientific and pedagogical researches of Ukrainian authors of Soviet period. The periodization of development of upbringing’s experiments is substantiated. The attention is focused on the priority trends of the evolution of upbringing’s experiments, which were prepared and conducted by the native scientists of 1943 – 1991 years.

Key words: experiment, upbringing’s experiment, scientific and pedagogical research, program of experiment, method of experiment.

Tetyana Pantyuk

Priority determinants of the child’s preparation for school

The abstract, specific, objective, subjective determinants of the child’s preparation for the school were analyzed. The system of the child’s preparation for the school on the basis of philosophical, sociological, psychological and pedagogical sources was generalized in the light of priority determinants.

Key words: child’s preparation for the school; abstract, specific, objective, subjective determinants, content preparation.

Ruslana Presner

Specific of learning foreign Languages by Adults

The article analyzes some specific characteristics of learning foreign languages by adults. It deals with the psychological characteristics of this category of persons, specifies on the essential features of an adult education, analyzes the difficulties they face in the process of learning foreign languages and outlines ways to improve their foreign language education.

Key words: adult education, learning foreign languages, learning foreign languages by adults.
Borys Savchuk, Yuriy Chopyk

The impact of reformed pedagogy in development of theory and practice of teaching and education in Ukraine in the first third of the twentieth century: historiography of the problem

The article analyzes the current native research about the impact of foreign reformed pedagogy in development of theory and practice of teaching and education in Ukraine in the first third of the twentieth century. On the basis of theses, monographs, article materials were found the main tendencies, achievements, gaps and prospects for further study of the problem.

Key words: reformed pedagogy, historiography of Ukrainian pedagogy, professional teacher training.

Natalia Salan

The current state of training future teachers of physical and mathematical sciences circle to work in educational institutions

In the article the reasons for updating the problem of training future teachers of physical and mathematical sciences circle to work in schools. Analyzed dissertation research as well as books and manuals relating to the training of teachers. Found that in modern pedagogical science paid insufficient attention to the preparation of future teachers of physical and mathematical disciplines of circle work.

Key words: training future teachers, physical and mathematical disciplines, group, hobby groups work.

Olena Saraeva

Children’s collective as psychology and pedagogical dimension of the problem

In the article the author on the basis of the analysis of scientific developments of foreign and native scientists a presentation to psychological and pedagogical dimension of the problem children’s collective. Approaches psychologists, educators and sociologists, determined their specificity and context of the treatment of the problem of formation children’s collective.

Key words: collective, children’s collective, social group, social community.

Natalia Sulaeva

Native arts education XIII – mid XVI centuries: non-formal and formal

In the article is elucidating the development of the native arts education XIII – the middle of the XVI century with the release of its formal and non-formal signs. The non-formal transfer of experience signs of artistic activity are the dominance (literary, artistic, musical, dance, theater) and the gradual development of formal art education in the territory of modern Ukraine in a certain historical period are emphasizes.

Key words: art education, formal and non-formal signs of art education, art.

Hanna Sharapa

Organization humane interaction with pupils as an important task of the teacher

The article describes the features of humane interaction between teacher and students. The necessity of dialogic interaction in the educational process, strengthening individual approach to pupils, avoiding stereotypes about certain categories of students. Specified in specific ways to achieve humane interaction of the educational process (active search for ways to adapt to the adult child achievements of individual training programs that take into account the specifics of the children themselves, etc.).

Key words: humane interaction, learner-centered approach to education, dialogical interaction, stereotyping.